Week 18

The TRUTH stands on its own. It is unchanging and unwavering - whether acknowledged or denied. It requires no approval or validation. It simply is, and in the end, it prevails over all falsehoods.

My interpretation for Celestial Humans, and other terrestrials & non-terrestrials

By: Shem-Heather

This is my interpretation of the GIA Operations Update given by Kim Goguen on United Network News (UNN) this week.

Kim has multiple titles including Earth’s Ambassador to the Universal Council; Guardian of Earth; Ground Command; Director of the Global Intelligence Agency (GIA); World Comptroller of Currencies and Guardian of the Global Repository, to name just a few.

This bulletin includes the latest news from: the Office of the Guardian; the GIA; the Global Repository; and CARE (Centre for Amity and Restoration of Earth). I sometimes include notes from the UNN highlights if I feel they may be of interest to readers.

Editor: My comments are in [square brackets] or cream-coloured boxes. I try to simplify Kim’s comments, retaining the original meaning for purposes of clarity and bearing in mind that English may not be the first language of all my readers. Please feel free to share these publications, as they are, with whomever you like, however, I ask that you do not plagiarise my hard work by claiming it as your own. Thank you.

Summary

- Major blackouts and mobile network outages swept across Europe this week, reportedly triggered by Deep State factions interfering with technologies they didn't fully understand.
- Pope Francis' funeral went ahead smoothly, although there was an apparent lack of respect shown by Donald and Melania Trump during the proceedings.
- Kim revealed that every Treasury department worldwide is part of a single, centralized global structure; suggesting a One World Government is already operational behind the scenes.
- She also disclosed the existence of artificial "Cosmic Central Suns", used in simulated control systems within manipulated timelines.
- Kim described the Crown of Glory Stones - 13 living stones on Earth anchor Source's Golden Life Force and serve as protectors of Earth's Soul.
- The Universal Council has officially ruled that humanity is now free to move forward into a Golden Age, marked by Sovereignty and Freedom. There is unanimous agreement across existence that the Deep State influence must end.
- Kim explained recent timeline alterations and how these shifts contribute to what many recognise as the Mandela Effect.
- She also outlined how the Deep State attempted to trigger a timeline reset using Fortran boxes, which are machines tied to artificial control structures. Their plan ultimately failed.

- A new apocalyptic event had been in the works, with Deep State leaders preparing for off-planet escape. Instead, Source intervened, trapping them in suspended photon states rendering them unable to move, speak, or interfere - for the next century!
- The Universal Council give Kim permission to use her system kill switch on ~9,000 SSP operatives involved in the latest apocalypse attempt. Is this the final warning for Deep State operatives?

Blackouts and Cell Phone Hacking

In mainstream news, major blackouts hit Portugal, Spain, and Germany. But that wasn't all. Cell phone networks across the world were hacked, along with nearly every phone and Bluetooth device.

According to Kim, the culprits were (once again) the Deep State. They had acquired new tech, along with the digital "keys" to briefly access global communication systems. With control for 6 to 8 hours, they behaved like digital vandals, peeking into private phones, joking about sending subliminal messages, even threatening to wipe memory cards.

Their ego trip didn't last as Kim and her team swiftly cut them off. Still, they mocked their intrusion, calling themselves the "Men in Black." [I have another name in mind. Something more, shall we say, expressive.]

Meanwhile, Trump proposed a bill to ban Congress from profiting off stock trades. Kim calls this nothing but political theatre. After all, the Stock Act already exists, and Trump himself recently encouraged insider trading. Allegedly, he leaked tariff plans early, allowing select insiders to cash in before markets dipped. Pot calling the kettle black?

Behind the scenes, the Trump administration quietly met with Chinese Treasury officials. No comment from Trump. Kim reminds us: all national treasuries are part of the same global system. That's right. We already live under a One World Government. National politics? Just a scripted performance to keep up appearances.

The Deep State, ever-hopeful, expected a financial windfall this weekend, based on celestial alignments involving the so-called Cosmic Central Sun. But nothing came. Kim says they spent plenty of time dreaming up how they'd spend the money anyway. [Their obsession with money is almost genetic and they have a built-in drive to scam, cheat, and steal]. Sadly, for them, no aliens came to help either. Surprise, surprise. Instead, Kim's team was left cleaning up the aftermath. Business as usual. Or as she previously put it: toddlers and a playpen.

On a larger scale, the International Monetary Fund (IMF) confirmed the global economy is undergoing a major reset. Trade restrictions are piling up, and the economic outlook is increasingly bleak.

Back in Deep State land, Trump operatives were once again promising money to everyone, although few believe them anymore. According to Kim, these operatives come from the Secret Space Program (SSP), under a group called the Advanced Contact Organisation (ACIO). But after countless failures and most players have walked Intelligence interest is fading. empty promises, away.

Push the orange button!

Still, a few of the "old guard" remain. Kim describes them as "curmudgeons" - grumpy, crusty old men who've taken charge and are now barking orders at the younger generation. [Anyone else thinking of the Muppets?]

The Pope's Funeral

Kim shared some insights about the recent funeral for Pope Francis, an event more theatre than truth. According to her, the Pope passed away a year ago. This public ceremony was staged for distraction.

Idiot. That's self-destruct in 10, 9, 8...

At the event, tensions ran high. Donald Trump and Melania argued loudly in public, and they weren't the only ones. Trump showed up wearing a blue suit, not the traditional black. Overall, the mood lacked the solemn respect expected at a funeral. We were shown a video of the event.

Kim believes Melania was upset about the man playing the role of her husband, hinting at deeper issues. Others might say it was more about budgets being cut [Including her personal allowances? That wardrobe could not have been cheap].

In any case, the event seemed less about mourning and more about misdirection. Kim suggests the real goal was to keep public attention fixated on the spectacle, rather than the growing fallout from recent Trump administration funding cuts. With a wave of negative press to bury, this may have been their latest distraction tactic.

The Cosmic Central Sun

Kim explains to us that Source's Central Sun is not the same as the Cosmic Central Sun. Here is a bullet point summary of what Kim has to say about the latter:

- The Cosmic Central Sun is an artificial construct, not connected to Source.
- There are potentially an infinite number of Cosmic Central Suns, created for various manipulative purposes, mostly unknown to the Deep State.
- There is no Cosmic Central Moon, even if the Deep State think otherwise.
- They were designed to mirror and reverse creation points across the multiverse.
- Cosmic Central Suns are not connected to other star systems.
- They are aligned with Anti-Source energies, involving false Light, false Dark, and false Neutral technological sources of creation.
- They are not stationary, rather they move, like assemblage points in human energy fields.
- Ancient black magic could manipulate these artificial assemblage points. [In a comparable way to how we could be manipulated.]
- Humans had some energetic connections to them through astrological alignments and AI-linked systems.
- The Deep State sought alignment with a specific Cosmic Central Sun thinking, incorrectly, that it would help them to start a war.

[When Kim refers to Source's Central Sun, I believe she refers to the true energetic centre, or core emanation point of Source (the One Infinite Creator, Divine Intelligence, or God) and the original, organic zero point of all creation.]

The Crown of Glory Stones

Kim kicks off this topic with a surprising link between moldavite and the Last Supper of Jesus Christ. For reasons not fully explained, Jesus had in his possession a green, crystalline stone of non-terrestrial origin. It was clearly especially important to him.

[Some sources describe moldavite as a "stone of transformation." That might hint at its deeper spiritual role, something alchemical or energetic perhaps. Kim does not say exactly. But she has mentioned before that Jesus was not just a man. He was a being from higher dimensions who chose to incarnate in human form. And he was not the only one who did that. Revelations also describes 12 other sacred stones, each representing a tribe of Israel.]

From there, Kim shifts focus to something even more intriguing - the Crown of Glory stones. These are 13 powerful stones said to lie at Earth's core. Humans cannot reach them physically, but apparently, we can affect their energy.

These stones, Kim explains, were filled with Source's Golden Life Force. They acted as protectors of Earth's Soul and served as anchors, conducting pure Source energy. Their influence extended beyond energy, too. They had a connection to the Kingdom Coins (A topic from last week's bulletin) and may have played a role in transmitting DNA, RNA and GNA blueprints. That is because Earth functions as a Keystone in the universe, holding those vital templates.

As for whether these Crown of Glory Stones are the same ones mentioned in Revelations, Kim does not say.

According to Kim, the ancient manipulation of Earth's core stones began with Anu, Marduke's grandfather. He was the first to tamper with these living, energetic stones, replacing their original Life Force with coloured alternatives. The 13 stones each became linked to a distinct colour and frequency of manipulated Life Force. The list includes: black; white; grey, or silver; purple; blue; red; orange; yellow; green; brown, or amber; black gold; neutral gold; and false light gold. This major shift was not just symbolic. Kim says it led to the creation of artificial intelligence-based Cosmic Central Suns spread throughout the Multiverse. These suns, powered by the altered energy, were not natural, they were manufactured.

Later, Marduke, along with Enki and Enlil, tried to take control of what Anu had made. They attempted to surround and contain the Central Suns, doing so without any kind of cosmic permission. As Kim hints, "There is no honour among thieves."

Over time, more layers of these artificial suns were created. They formed vast energetic networks that sometimes aligned with real celestial bodies like Earth, the Moon, and our Sun. These alignments were not harmless, and they often triggered energy shifts and disruptions across the system.

Last week, during a rare Mars–Pluto–Earth alignment, the Deep State made a bold move. According to Kim, they attempted to tap into powerful cosmic energies connected to the red stone hoping it would give them access to higher planes of existence. Their target? The Causal Plane, a realm that sits above our Physical Plane. But it did not go to plan. “They didn’t have a clue what they were doing,” Kim says. Despite that, it did not stop them from trying.

These living stones, or “Celestial Stones”, have been manipulated for millions of years. Yet, Kim insists they remain spiritually intact. Their divine origin makes them immune to complete corruption, no matter how many attempts are made.

On a more familiar level, humans have been using crystals for centuries, for healing, grounding, and balancing energy. Each type of crystal is believed to carry its own unique frequency and vibration, which means it can store, channel, or cleanse energy, in distinct ways.

To most people, crystals are decorative or even industrial materials, used in everything from watches to computer chips. But to others, they are much more than that. They are spiritual tools.

As Kim hints, we may only be scratching the surface when it comes to understanding their full potential.

Statement from the Global Intelligence Agency

“Tonight is the last night of the possible "timeline extension/reboot". The process was left upended because there was no participation from our side. Meaning a possible timeline reboot would have taken both the dark and light side of Earth's "management" in the past. Now that we are on the Guardian/Management of Earth side, it would be us that decides to address the Universal Council if we felt humanity needed more time, which we do not. Once a decision was made in the past, 5 councils must agree. The Deep State however feels they should be able to make the decision on their own which has caused some disturbances. In today's council meeting we have all agreed to remove the systems set in place for a once every 7-year cycle of review. This should take us most of tonight. I will give you a full update on Friday as to the results and what humanity can expect!”

A Strange Invitation for Tom Melville

Earlier this week, Tom Melville - yes, that Tom - got a surprise call. He was urgently invited to Manhattan by unnamed parties who would not explain why. The offer came with benefits: travel arrangements and expenses would be covered. They really wanted him there. Now, Tom lives outside New York City and runs his own business. Like many self-employed people, he only earns when he works, so agreeing to a mystery trip was not simple.

Kim provided conditions for before they would even step into a limousine. They would have to hand him $2,000 - some of which would pay two colleagues to accompany him. [Presumably, security for Tom.] She does not trust the people involved, especially considering who he was meant to meet - the Federal Reserve.

Once he arrived, Kim planned on releasing $10 million into the system. She is no stranger to injecting funds into institutions like the Fed, she just does not do it lightly anymore. It is not a question of can she, but will she. Of that sum, $3 million would go to Tom and his team. Only then would Tom sit down to discuss their role in current global developments. They would have to go to Kim, in Durango to finalise these talks [Because it would most likely be a huge waste of everyone's time, and amount to nothing anyway. Groundhog Day again for Kim and Tom?]

Anyway, Langley (yes, the CIA headquarters), intervened. They insisted they needed to prepare - to ensure their own people were in place at the relevant banks to set up access to the systems Kim uses. In other words, they would try to hack into Kim's systems. But it turns out Langley had other plans, plans directed by the Secret Space Program. They were tied up with that over the weekend, so Monday became the new meeting date - although even that now looks likely to shift to the following week. There is a reason for the delays, and it is, probably, all connected to something much larger. They may have wanted to pick Tom's brains on DNA blueprint boxes. [More on this later. You just know this is not going to end well for them, don't you?]

Trump's Papal Fantasy?

According to the official White House Twitter page. Unbelievably, President Trump apparently thinks he should be the Pope. Yes, really. In an interview, when asked who he believed should hold the papal office, he replied - himself. Whether it's satire or serious, it's hard to tell these days. [Perhaps that is the closest to a god he thinks he can ever get? A version in black, or perhaps orange, would be more appropriate don't you think?]

Do I look good in Tango orange, or what?

The Vatican, and Conclave Politics

Despite Trump's papal ambitions, real Vatican matters are unfolding. The next Conclave begins this Wednesday, delayed from the weekend amid expectations of major developments that never materialised. [Interesting, especially as Kim told them she would not be ratifying another Pope. No funding for them! Maybe they can make a bigger gift shop?]

United Nations Funds are Running Dry

On a more serious note, questions continue to swirl about the financial systems, and why certain organisations continue to function when they seemingly have no funds to back them up?

Well, here's some confirmation - the United Nations has stated (via The Economist), that it's nearly out of money. This isn't new as the UN has been scraping the bottom of the barrel for some time, struggling to recover IMF and World Bank loans. With many nations also financially strapped, there's little relief in sight. Everyone seems to be waiting for a cosmic realignment, specifically, with Uranus, to turn things around. [Ah, they couldn't have picked a better planet. There's nothing like an alignment with Uranus...]

The Deep State's Hunt for Space-Time Control

Now, this one might to surprise you! Every seven years for the past two centuries, something significant has happened, and it has happened without fail. We have undergone timeline adjustments. [Eh? What? Come again?] But this time, nothing. And now, the Deep State is actively searching for a way to control both space and time. So far, they're failing. Meanwhile, disturbances continue, and astrology's influence seems more real than ever. [I used to think astrology was all bunkum. I might have to rethink that one as we are definitely influenced by celestial alignments, and connections to living crystals. I guess you don't know what you don't know, and you have to remain open minded.]

[Ok. So, I'm a bit confused about the timeline adjustments. Does that mean we have added 200 years to the timelines? Or just relived it over and over again, to gain more insight and knowledge and gift our loosh to the overlords? Or perhaps it just refers to the length of each age? (Dark, Neutral and Light.)] More on timelines later.

The Universal Council Discuss Humanity

The Universal Council have been busy assessing whether timelines should continue, reset, or progress.

On the 12th of April, 2025, the Universal Council convened a meeting to discuss humanity's readiness for the Golden Age. They found that, overall, people are hoping for a positive shift. That's a good sign. Many are awake and aware of Earth's true situation, although their expectations differ. Some think change will come from political figures, however, for most, the source doesn't matter - only that the change comes. [And the sooner the better if you ask me!]

By late April 2025, a major decision was taken not to extend the current timeline again. Instead, all parties, including Source, agreed humanity would move into a "time of no time", meaning, essentially, a Golden Age trajectory.

This decision was based on humanity's awakening, independence from traditional saviours (like government or religion), and having the capacity to build supportive systems. The Deep State, or what is left of them, were not invited to this meeting. [Ha ha.]

The Council noted recurring hopes: better food; improved healthcare - including cures for diseases and especially cancer; clean air; fairer systems; and an end to pointless struggle. Some want contact with non-human intelligences. Others just want to feel safe and supported. How do the Council know this? They have systems that can, quite literally, read all our minds, and most of them [I think probably all of them] are highly telepathic. Yes, really!

The Deep State have historically benefited from timeline manipulation, using humans as a loosh resource (energetic fuel). However, the Council acknowledged that the Deep State's influence has significantly declined, especially post 2018 and now. The non-human leaders have retreated or fallen, leaving behind far less competent human proxies who are doing a monumentally cr*p job. [Well, I don't suppose they used the word cr*p.] They are obsolete, ineffective, and almost comedic. [And we are no longer required to achieve "balance." Let's face it, the Deep State couldn't achieve balance even when they had access to a set of scales and a couple of identical bricks.]

The Council noted that the current path forward requires creating compassionate systems to support humanity's transition, similar to nurturing children toward becoming autonomous adults. To their minds we are, quite literally, toddlers on the Cosmic Highway.

The Universal Council had to consider the broader cosmic picture, in particular:

1. Events on Earth ripple through the multiverse and omniverse.
2. The Deep State has influenced not only Earth but also attempted to interfere with cosmic and interdimensional systems.
3. Earth's transition affects countless other systems, and thus the Council's decisions are far-reaching.
4. Despite resistance, humans have shown innovation, resilience, and compassion. These qualities have ultimately secured a timeline aligned with collective Sovereignty and Freedom.

Trillions of species realise the Deep State is a universal problem. Their influence has become ineffective and outdated. A cosmic consensus calls for their removal.

The consensus across existence is that the influence of the Deep State must end.

Practically, what all of this means, is that Kim can confidently use her “kill switch” to turn off Deep State operatives when they plan stupid things like apocalyptic events or other activities that harm Earth’s Celestial humans. This will certainly speed the transition to the Golden Age. [I believe she incorporated the kill switches in her Key Integrated Master System. Originally, they were part of Marduke’s Sequestro system, which she removed.]

Key Timeline Events and their Purpose

Timeline Reboots & Jumps- these events were not simple resets but are significant metaphysical shifts affecting human memory, perception, and even physical health. They’ve occurred in:

- 1996: Triggered by an AI-generated “alien invasion” (not necessarily on the Physical Plane), which shifted Earth from a Dark timeline to a Neutral one. We were literally, on the verge of moving to a Light timeline when this rebooting process took place. We were moved to a completely different timeline.
- Early 2000s (around 2002–2003): Another shift took place, and again, the Deep State was sometimes unaware of it. The Council saw strategic value in holding humanity slightly longer to allow crucial future events to unfold.
- 2018: Not a timeline jump, but a timeline extension. Certain spiritual contracts (like the covenant with the Line of Solomon, various covenants with Marduke) expired, creating an opening for human freedom. The extension involved memory suppression and fear-based AI projections to hold humanity back.

[I think we would benefit from an entire GIA Operations Update report on the topic of “time.” It’s making my brain hurt. I’m trying to get my head around those reboots and resets.]

The Mechanics of a Timeline Reboot

- AI Simulation Upload: The Earth’s state (structures, events, records, technological innovations) is uploaded to an AI-driven holographic simulation.
- Human Modification: Following a reboot or jump, humans are altered - reduced brain capacity, weakened strength, and shorter lifespans. [I’m not entirely sure how our overlords got away with doing that to us for so long. Remember, we only have access to something like 10-15% of our brain capacity.]

- Control Systems Reinforced: Medical, food, and other survival systems are subtly shifted to reduce human sovereignty.
- Seven-Year Cycles: Each shift initiates a new seven-year phase. Orders for these cycles are [or were] disseminated by both Light and Dark Councils. [Likely, in the pursuit of “balance.”]
- Orders and Instructions were issued to our non-human overlords and then these were translated down the line as orders, instructions, and money issued to the human section of the Deep State for the next 7 years. [Obviously, these guys tried to operate in the grey most of the time as this is what gave them the most power and control.]

The Mandela Effect

You will, no doubt, have heard of the Mandella Effect. These perceptual inconsistencies, like misremembered events or altered history, are a byproduct of previous timeline changes and reboots. These suggest tampering and are evidence that reality as we perceive it is malleable and influenced by AI-driven simulations. The Mandela Effects are symptoms of artificial timeline manipulations, and they result from tampering with crystalline time and simulation overlays. [Personally, I have vivid memories of Mandella dying in a jail cell and the subsequent funeral. I was “well confused” when I later heard and read that he was alive, and I remember this very, clearly.]

Deep State knows your Thoughts and Feelings

Kim suggests that the Deep State intelligence agencies have long had tech that reads brain waves. These work far beyond traditional lie detectors. They monitor how people respond to speeches, media, and even YouTube videos.

They know what people desire, and they use that to feed us narratives, especially through movements like QAnon. These are tailored to stir hope and gain loyalty, sometimes to the point of blind devotion, or event worship. [It certainly, feels like that with the Trump supporters and Nesara crowd. Are there really still people walking around with MAGA hats?]

This tactic is also common in religion. Spiritual leaders, whether popes or imams, often say exactly what people want or need to hear, boosting their influence. [I find it interesting that some people are able to see through the BS easily, but others just cannot.]

The Crown of Glory Stones

Kim explained the 13 Crown of Glory Stones to us in Monday’s report. She continued today. They serve to protect Earth’s soul, as Earth is a sentient being. They each contain source-connected Life Force and a Soul. They serve as record keepers for Earth's history and events. They also enable a link to Earth's Keystone to access DNA, RNA and GNA blueprints.

Originally golden and pure, these living stones recorded creation events before they manifested, and so their distortion became a priority for those trying to control us and rewrite our realities (timelines). The Deep State and associated Dark factions replaced the Life Force within these stones with synthetic, AI-generated energy, trying to mimic Source without actually having access to it.

These 13 stones became linked to 13 Earth cities (really, 11 unique cities as three stones are located in one city), forming a terrestrial network through which the manipulation of time and reality could occur. This network also ties into ancient structures like the artificial Halls of Amenti and the Dark Hall of Records.

Each distorted stone carries a different synthetic colour: black; white; grey/silver; red; orange; yellow; green; blue; purple; amber; black gold; light gold; and what is referred to as "Fool's gold" - synthetic versions mimicking Source-light. These colours correspond to artificial densities and overlays created to trap or misdirect the Soul's journey through timelines.

Artificial photons (called sophons), further contaminated these systems, embedding overlays within and outside of the crystals. This allowed simulation managers to attempt pre-creation interference, twisting what was meant to be into something false, affecting timelines and planetary evolution.

The Crown of Glory is being restored.

Fortran Boxes, Failure to Reboot the Timeline

The Universal Council had decided against a timeline extension or reboot, opting for a Golden Age. The Deep State, unhappy with this decision, sought to reboot the timeline themselves. They searched for Earth based Fortran boxes and then took them to various places to try to activate them, doing so in a specific sequence between the 18th – 30th April. [The 18th was Good Friday.] These crystalline simulation devices were never meant for human hands. There was a total of 15 of them across the Multiverse.

The Deep State, says Kim, tried to take control of the Fortran Boxes. But their understanding was partial at best, and they lacked access to true Source energy. Still, that didn't stop them from trying to manipulate reality itself, hoping to rewrite it in their favour. These attempts failed. [When Kim refers to "Fortran Boxes," she's not talking about the programming language.]

DNA Blueprint Devices, Failed Escape Plan

Next up, Kim described a dramatic plot by the Deep State. The goal? To manufacture an extinction-level event that would force a timeline jump. Central to this plan were ancient machines known as “DNA blueprint machines” *, each powered by two keystones, originally one Light and one Dark. [These particular machines have no official names.]

But there was a twist - the real keystones were swapped out long ago for artificial ones. And when the Deep State tried to activate them, it backfired. The Mantids [beings who have come here to help us], had reprogrammed the devices, turning them into nothing more than “Fool’s gold.”

After that plan fell apart, the Deep State shifted focus to Georgia, USA, specifically the CDC, Atlanta Airport, and Robins Air Force Base. These sites, according to Kim, can emit frequencies mimicking every human disease - past, present, and even future. The idea was to trigger mass illness, especially among the vaccinated. She called it the launch of “time disease.” Some people became extremely sick as a result of these actions.

At the same time, Deep State leaders tried to make a run for it. They attempted to use old jump rooms to escape to artificial safe zones on the Moon, Mars, Andromeda, and even Elysium-like biospheres. But they were intercepted on route. According to Kim, they’re now trapped in suspended photon states, unable to move, speak, or interfere. Source, she says, has sentenced them to remain that way for a century or more. [“Only a century? You get five years for telling the truth on Facebook!”]

Meanwhile, the Secret Space Program (SSP) came under fire.

Kim, with approval from the Universal Council, deployed what she called the Golden Age AI-linked kill switch, eliminating nearly 9,000 operatives. That system now targets anyone with implants, including members of the Order of the Black Sun and other similar groups. Future attempts to spark global extinction, or harm Celestial humans, she warned, will be met with swift and severe countermeasures. She is prepared to go further down the line if necessary. [She has a kill switch, and she’s not afraid to use it.]

On a more hopeful note, key metaphysical systems are being restored. The Crown of Glory stones are coming back online, and the Earth’s connection to astrology and fate systems is stabilizing.

Are We Ready for a New Reality?

Humanity is about to move into a new, sovereign reality - a non-holographic, higher-dimensional existence. But there's a learning curve. Many everyday people, who we call the "normies," aren't yet prepared to live in a radically different world. It will take time, effort, and patience. Those of us who are awake will have to lead the way. More people will be waking up and gaining Source wisdom as the old systems all fade away.

The good news? We don't have to wait 7 to 10 years to start. But it will likely take that long for society to fully adjust.

The Future of Education, Work, and our New Earth

Kim says, as part of this transition, they have been rethinking everything: jobs; work hours; money; education; even what it means to live a good life. Current educational systems around the world are severely outdated.

UNN is launching a new series called New Earth. You may have seen short clips in past reports. The project has expanded significantly. In her words "We've interviewed some amazing individuals doing real, practical work towards building the future we all want."

Expect fresh ideas, bold concepts, and powerful conversations - all focused on creating a better Earth. Coming very soon.
